

Event: IOSH Training

Date range: 6th – 8th February 2023

IOSH
Managing
Safely

With Go Green's focus on consistently identifying development opportunities for our staff, we incorporated IOSH Managing Safely training for 7 members of our management team, including our Operation and Sales directors.

The training was organised through the Doncaster Chamber via a Workforce Development programme to help upskill the workforce. The programme was 50% funded by the programme and 50% paid for by Go Green. The course was delivered over 3 days, with the completion of a risk assessment and an exam to warrant a pass.

Training topic included:

- Health and Safety Legislation
- Hazards
- Safety Management Systems
- Active and reactive monitoring
- Fire, Electricity and Noise
- Risk Control
- Accident Prevention, Investigation and Reporting Occupational Health and Hygiene
- Workplace Inspection Risk Assessment

Identifying Needs

Currently within Go Green, we have two staff members who are NEBOSH qualified within Health and Safety, but with our ever-growing workforce, we knew we needed to increase our qualified personnel. We identified the members of staff who frequently travel for their role to visit customers and supplier sites, to ensure these individuals are appropriately trained to carry out their roles both effectively and safely, making the correct decisions and have the background knowledge for all possible eventualities on the road.

As of the end of February, two further staff members will complete the IOSH training and give Go Green 9 IOSH Managing Safely qualified individuals.

Staff Testimonials

"The IOSH training course really benefited me, as it was very relevant to my role here at Go Green as much of my time is spent visiting customer sites where health and safety is paramount.

The course highlighted the importance of adopting best practice and gave a useful insight into how I can identify and make positive changes to health and safety both here at Go Green HQ and when visiting customers on site."

Hannah Brice
Senior Account Manager

"The course was well put together and the instructor kept it interesting and interactive throughout the 3 days, allowing the content to really sink in. The course has provided valuable insight that can be used when visiting customer sites or at our own offices."
